Rule 7. Nondiscrimination on the Basis of Disability in Air Travel — Service Animals, Emotional Support Animals, and Pets

WESTERN permits a service animal or emotional support animal to accompany a qualified individual with a disability free of charge.

A. General Information

1. The U.S. Dept. of Transportation advises that, under the Air Carrier Access Act (ACAA), a service animal is any animal that (1) is individually trained or able to provide assistance to a qualified individual with a disability, or (2) an animal that assists persons with disabilities by providing emotional support. Documentation may be required from passengers with emotional support or psychiatric service animals.
2. Notwithstanding the goals of the ACAA and WESTERN's desire to accommodate everyone possible, safety is still the number one concern and it may not be possible to accommodate all animals even with proper service animal documentation due to cabin limitations of the aircraft.
3. WESTERN will not be liable for illness or injury to an animal or death of an animal when the animal has been handled by WESTERN with ordinary standards of safety and care or when WESTERN has acted in the interest of the entire flight such as in an emergency or a force majeure event.
4. WESTERN will accommodate one service animal per passenger. In cases where a service animal is denied, the reason for the denial will be provided to the passenger in writing within 10 calendar days of the date of denial.
5. WESTERN reserves the right to deny boarding to unusual or exotic animals or animals we deem unsafe or not fit to fly. The pilot in command has final authority.
6. Unless required by the HDOA (Hawaii Dept. of Agriculture), no veterinarian health certification is required for animals traveling on WESTERN flights.
7. Neither animal's owner or animal may in any way block access to emergency egress doors of the aircraft.
8. Due to limitations of size and manufacture of the aircraft, there are limits to the size of any animal transported on WESTERN. Animals must be able to fit on the floor or on the passenger's lap without being in the aisle. The animal cannot interfere with the operation of the passenger's seat belt. They can in no way impede egress from the aircraft in the event of emergency.
9. WESTERN will not be liable for loss or expense due to the passenger's failure to comply with the provisions of this rule, including, without limitation, if any animal is refused passage into or through any state or country.
10. The passenger assumes full responsibility for the safety, well-being, and conduct of its animal, including the interaction of the animal with other passengers who may come in contact with the animal while onboard the aircraft, and for compliance with all governmental requirements, regulations, or restrictions, including entry permits and required health certificates of the country, state, or territory from/or to which the animal is being transported.

B. Non-Service Animals (Pets) are not allowed on any WESTERN flight.

Rule 8. Passengers Requiring Assistance

a lift device. WESTERN may refuse to provide transportation to any customer whose carriage may impair the safety of the flight in accordance with the provisions of this contract, and may refuse to provide transportation to any customer whose carriage would violate federal regulations (including FAA and TSA regulations) or the WESTERN's company's FAA-issued operating manuals. In exercising this authority, however, our personnel will not discriminate against any disabled individual solely on the basis of the disability.

- B. For your safety, to travel in our Pilatus PC-12 aircraft, customers must be able to ascend and descend several steps to board the aircraft without the use of a lift device. This assistance will be in a dignified, safe, professional and courteous manner and at all times. WESTERN will consult with the customer about any assistance and special plans arranged on the customer's behalf. WESTERN will extend this assistance to all qualified individuals with a disability as this legal term is more broadly defined to protect all those who may otherwise suffer from discriminatory practices. We do, however, ask that if any assistance is needed, that it be communicated at the time the reservation is made, so that staff can document your reservation and be prepared for your arrival at the airport.

Rule 9. Special Services

Customers who, because of age, mental, or physical condition, disability or impairment, require individual attention or consideration to enplane or deplane an aircraft or to manage themselves during the flight in normal operations or emergency conditions will be afforded a reasonable amount of assistance by WESTERN employees in a dignified, safe, and courteous manner. WESTERN will consult with the customer about any assistance and special plans arranged on the customer's behalf. WESTERN will extend this assistance to all qualified individuals with a disability as this legal term is more broadly defined to protect those who may otherwise suffer from discriminatory practices. We do, however, ask that if any assistance is needed it be communicated at the time the reservation is made to provide for adequate preparation by our staff.
- E. WESTERN may require a passenger with a disability to travel with a safety assistant as a condition of being provided air transportation in accordance with 14 CFR Part 382 "Nondiscrimination on the Basis of Disability in Air Travel." When determined necessary contrary to the passenger's self-assessment, there will be no charge for the safety assistant; however, if a passenger voluntarily chooses to travel with a personal care attendant or safety assistant that WESTERN does not require, WESTERN may charge for the transportation of that person.
